DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bhatnagar (U.S. Patent 6,006,996).

As per claim 1, Bhatnagar discloses a low noise solid state thermostat comprising thermostat 30, temperature sensor 1, comparator 5 for comparing the sensed temperature, solid state switching circuitry 11 switching current to an output device (heating element 31), a microprocessor (integrated circuit 97 with CPU 71), and memory 75 accessible by the microprocessor.

As per claim 2, the memory 75 of Bhatnagar is located within integrated circuit/processor 97 (Figure 11).

As per claim 3, Bhatnagar discloses upper and lower band set temperatures (cut-in and cut-out temperature limits).

As per claim 4, Bhatnagar discloses a user interface (see for example Abstract, lines 7-8).

As per claim 5, Bhatnagar discloses temperature setpoints being input via potentiometer

Art Unit: 3744

As per claims 6 and 7, Bhatnagar discloses all features of the claim as discussed above regarding claim 1, and further discloses detecting various fault conditions (see column 4, line 57, column 9, lines 28-31, etc.).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 14 and 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bhatnagar.

As per claims 14 and 15, Bhatnagar discloses display unit 18, does not specifically teach reporting the fault information thereto. It would have been an obvious modification to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to send the fault detection results detected by Bhatnagar to the display unit for the purpose apprising the user of the occurrence of a fault.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8-13 and 16-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
